

It All Started Here.

One person. One computer.
No big team. No big office.
Just a vision.

OUR STORY

From Freelancing to a Private Limited Company

XSPACEWEB was founded by Dhrub Kumar Karmkar, a visionary entrepreneur who believed that technology, when combined with creativity and strategy, can transform businesses of any scale.

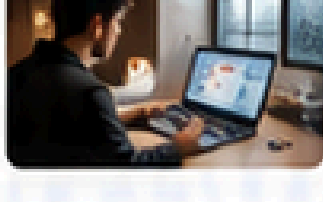

The journey began with hands-on freelance work — building websites, applications, and eCommerce solutions for growing businesses. With consistent results, client trust, and a deep understanding of the digital ecosystem, XSPACEWEB steadily expanded its capabilities, team, and ambitions.

In 2024, this growing vision took its next milestone — XSPACEWEB Private Limited, marking our transition from an individual venture to a professionally structured digital enterprise.
